A misty, rolling landscape with hills and a small house in the foreground. The scene is captured in a wide-angle shot, showing a grassy hillside in the foreground with a small white house and a fence. The background features rolling hills covered in dense trees, shrouded in a thick mist or fog. The sky is overcast with soft, diffused light. The overall mood is serene and peaceful.

BRAND STORY

From the hills with roots in nature

Across the rolling hills near Pennsylvania's Blue Mountain, St. Martin Cabinetry first took shape, rooted in the steadiness of the natural world. That origin still defines our character: grounded, deliberate, and built to last. We hold two convictions. Honor the integrity of real wood, and design for everyday living with storage that is purposeful, intuitive, and quietly composed.

Cabinetry as interior architecture

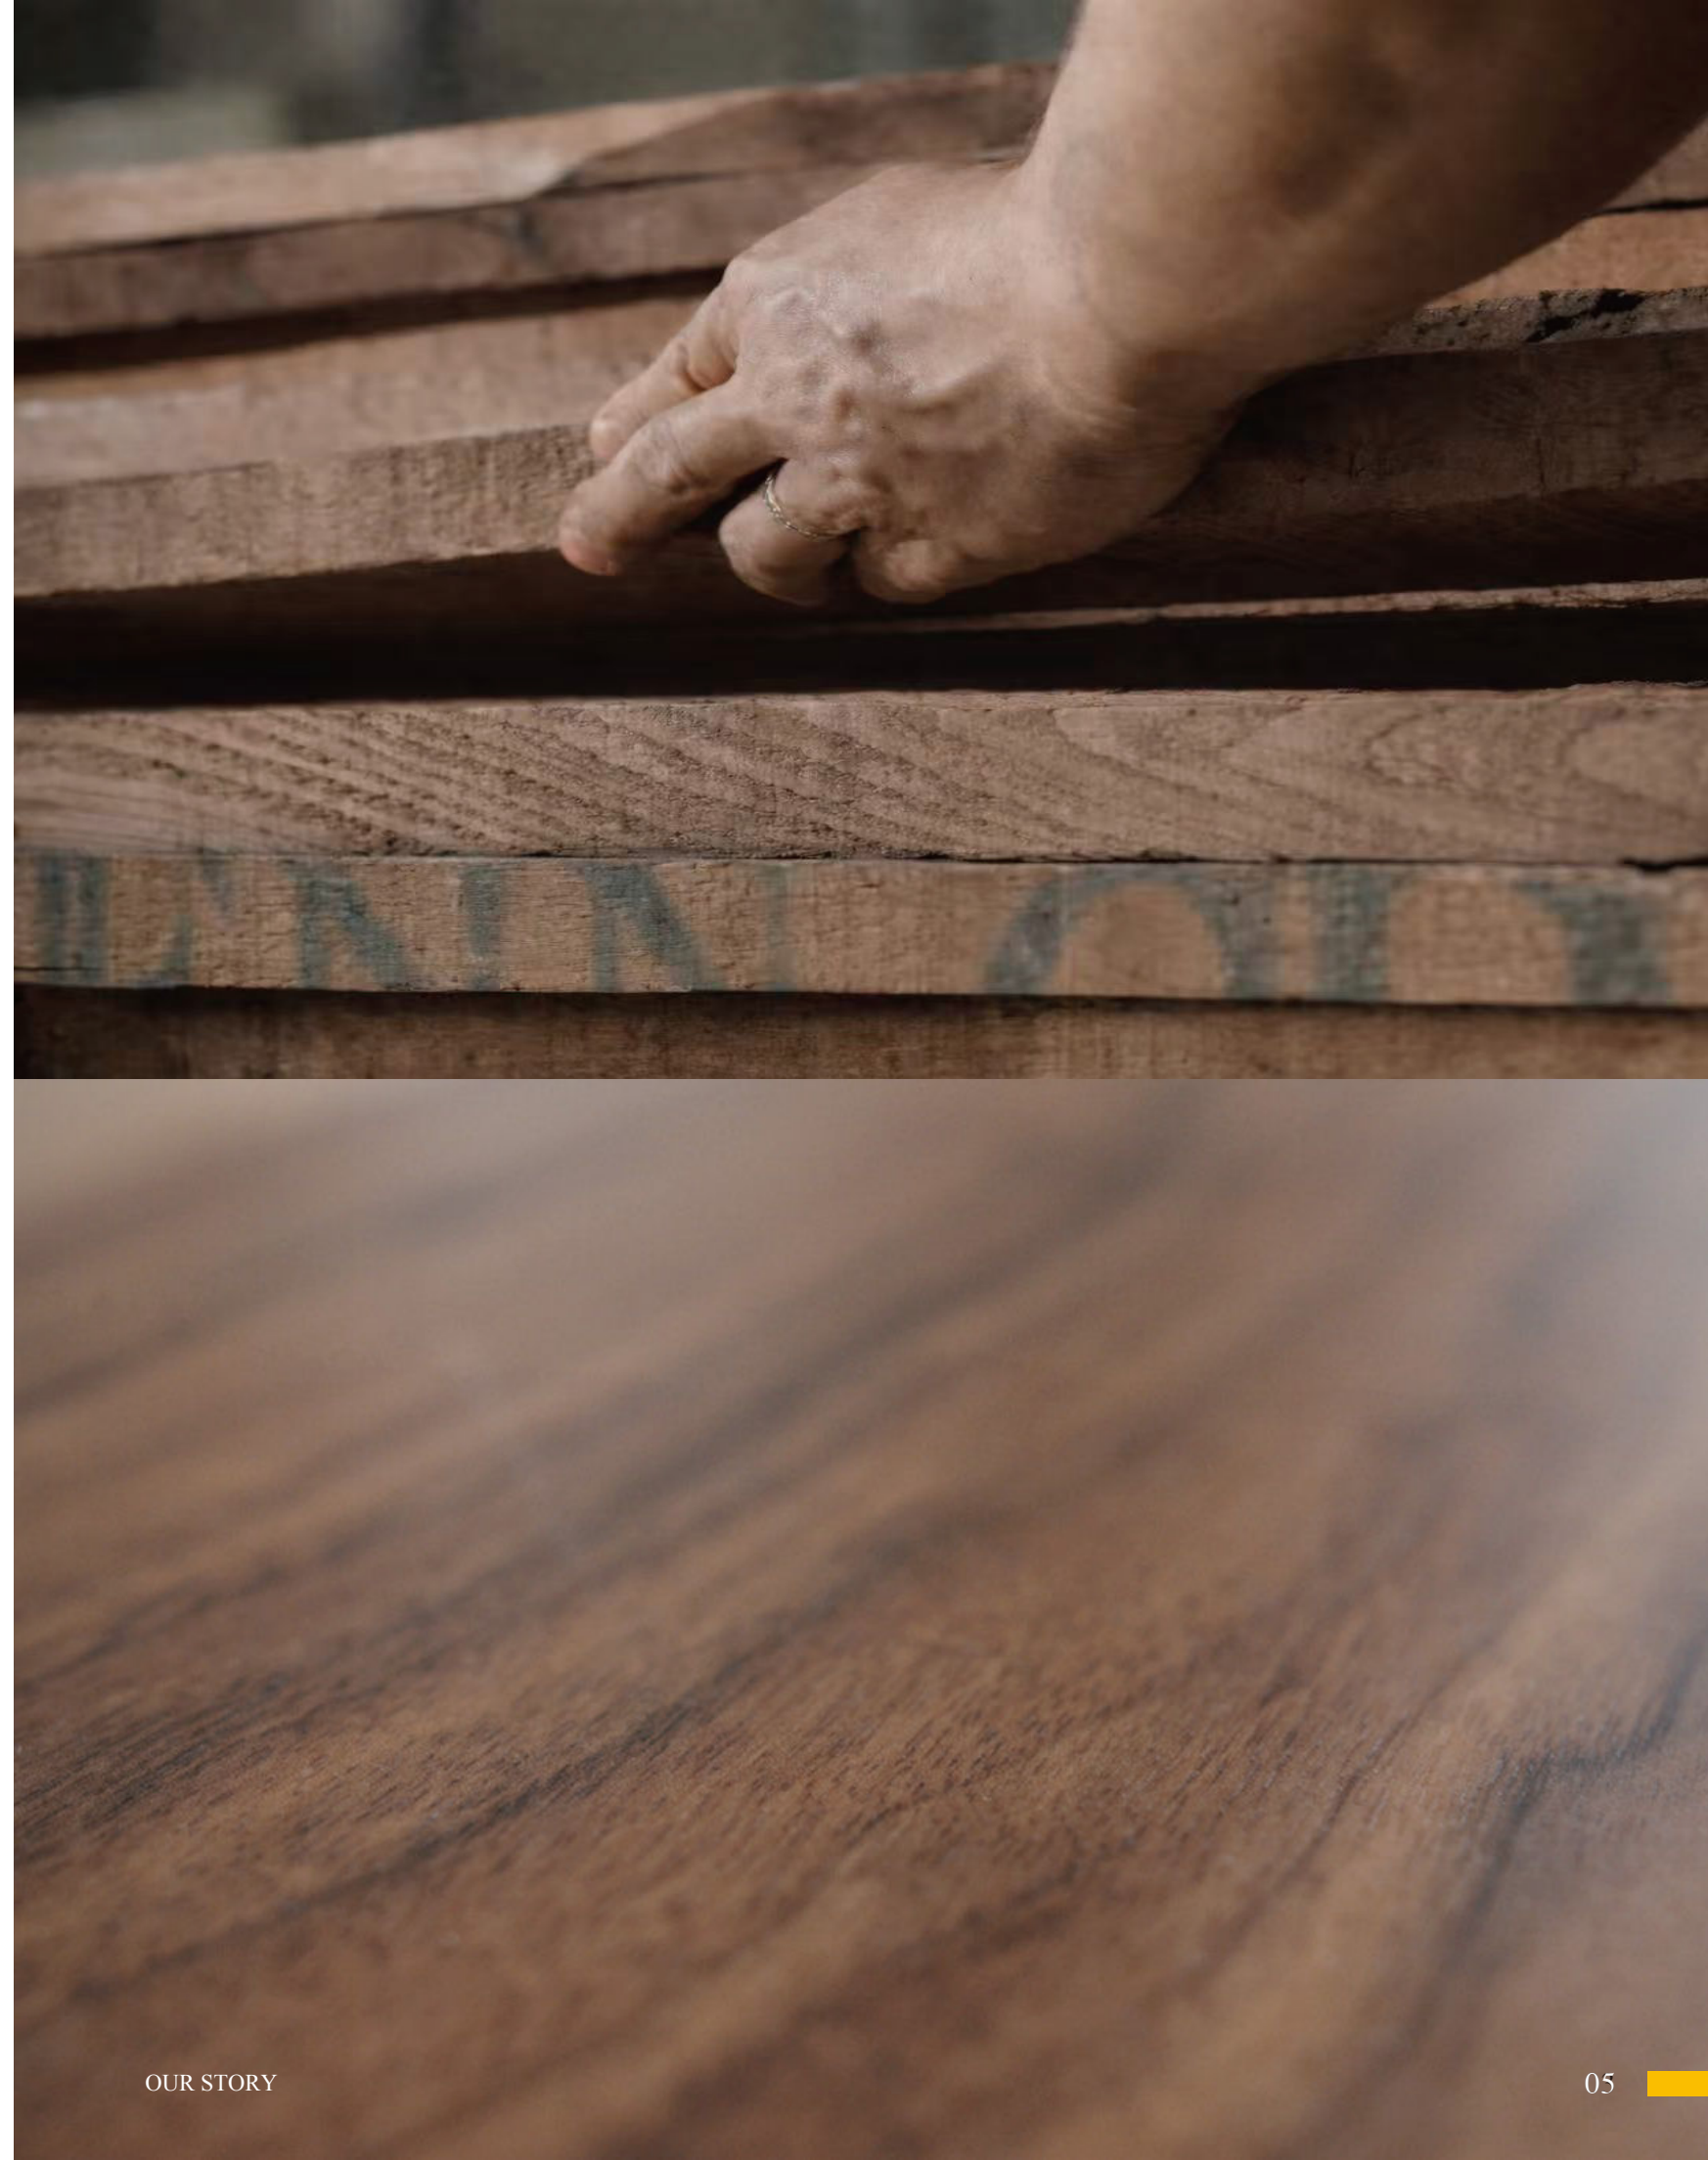

Cabinetry is not an afterthought. It is part of the room’s structure, carrying proportion, alignment, and rhythm through the space. Designed as interior architecture, it clarifies the room’s geometry, reinforces its lines, and establishes a calm continuity across the space.

The character of a home is shaped by its environment and the way people move through it. Interior furnishings should respond to that reality, not fight it. Cabinetry, in particular, is experienced at arm’s length every day. It should feel cohesive, effortless to use, and quietly aligned with the architecture around it.

That is how we design: with light, scale, and daily movement in mind. The result is cabinetry that recedes into the space while strengthening it, creating a grounded sense of order that supports the life lived there.

Craft carried forward by hands that stay

Craftsmanship is not a claim. It is a long practice of attention, repeated until it becomes instinct. Many of our master craftsmen have been with St. Martin for decades, learning how grain reads in light, how wood responds to the cut, and how finishes mature over time. You feel it in clean joinery, resilient surfaces, and details made to withstand daily life with ease.

FULL CUSTOM

Uncompromising Artistry, Tailored to Your Vision

From the timeless framed inset precision of Heritage Framed Inset to the material-forward strength of Vista Full Access and the cohesive whole-home system of Wardrobe Closet, our Full Custom collections are built around the architecture, not a fixed program. Every project is made to order, with expanded flexibility in sizing, configuration, materials, detailing, and finish. Veneer selection and grain alignment can be controlled per project, and custom color matching is available, enabling layered material combinations and deeper architectural integration for spaces defined by craft and personal expression.

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

Heritage Framed Inset is our signature framed inset cabinetry system, fully custom and built to order for each space. Built with framed inset construction, where doors sit flush within the face frame and reveals stay consistently controlled, it showcases craftsmanship through proportion and precise alignment. The result is a refined, artisanal presence, where measured detailing and balanced proportions bring warmth without excess across traditional, transitional, and polished modern interiors

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

This Heritage Framed Inset kitchen represents the core Heritage look: timeless in structure, elevated in detail, and consistently right for high-end residential work. Balanced proportions and our best-selling finishes create a composed, premium presence that feels current, not time-stamped, and familiar, not formulaic.

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

Lakeland doors bring a tailored, transitional look to Heritage Framed Inset, pairing classic frame-and-inset discipline with clean proportions that still feel warm. Light-toned finishes and sun-washed materials make it especially natural in coastal and warm-climate homes, where the kitchen should feel bright, relaxed, and quietly elevated. It is designed to specify with clarity and to live beautifully for years, with the consistency designers expect in fully custom work.

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

Heritage Framed Inset spans more than one architectural language, equally at home in light, timeless residences and in sharper, modern environments. Designed for modern interiors where cabinetry must respond to architecture through line, proportion, and controlled contrast, Heritage Framed Inset delivers clean planes and precise detailing that read architectural rather than decorative. Material contrast adds depth and definition, especially in open-plan urban spaces where every surface must read clearly.

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

Among our Heritage Framed Inset work, this kitchen represents the collection at its most elevated, where framed inset discipline is paired with a richly tactile material story and uncompromising finish selection. Grounded in natural texture and tonal warmth, it layers rift-sawn oak and softened walnut tones against warm whites and clean proportions for a look that is modern without starkness and luxurious without display, designed to feel collected, considered, and enduring.

HERITAGE FRAMED INSET

Heritage Framed Inset is our fully custom framed inset system, built to order with materials and hardware selected for long-term performance. Framed inset construction creates a flush, furniture-like fit, while thick plywood casework, solid-wood components, and Blum soft-close motion deliver strength you can feel and precision you can see, especially at close range.

- Material-First Casework: Thick plywood construction with a maple melamine interior, shelving with solid maple edging, and matching structural components deliver rigidity, clean interiors, and long-term stability.
- Framed Inset Craft: Flush inset doors and drawer fronts built from solid-wood frames with an HDF center panel hold crisp alignment and a refined finish, giving Hampton its furniture-level presence up close.
- Premium Motion Hardware: Blum soft-close hinges and full-extension undermount slides, paired with solid birch dovetail drawer boxes, create smooth, quiet operation and durable performance under daily use.

VISTA FULL ACCESS

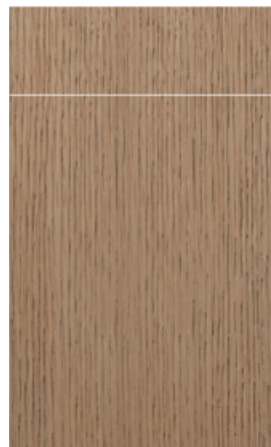

Architectural frameless.
Built to order.

Vista Full Access is our custom frameless cabinetry system, built to order for each space. Defined by full-access interiors, clean reveals, and high-control construction, it delivers a lighter, more architectural read than a framed system while maintaining the quiet refinement expected of a premium custom kitchen. Vista Full Access is not a “modern style,” it is a structural system that can be specified across classic through contemporary interiors depending on door profile, proportion, and finish.

LAKELAND
Rift Cut White Oak

Light, softness, and approachability remain central to Vista Full Access, with detailing kept clean and controlled. Wood is treated as a primary surface rather than an accent, bringing warmth and natural rhythm to open-plan homes, while white reads as a bright counterbalance to the wood story rather than a stark statement. The overall effect is calm and sunlit, designed to feel effortless while still feeling carefully resolved in the details.

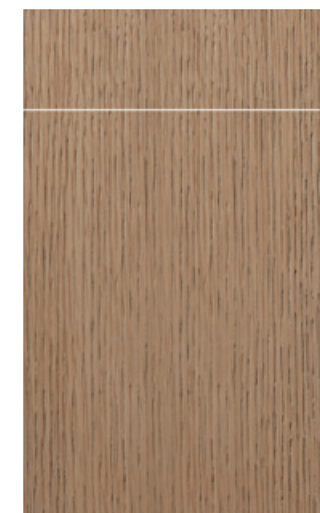

VISTA FULL ACCESS

VISTA FULL ACCESS

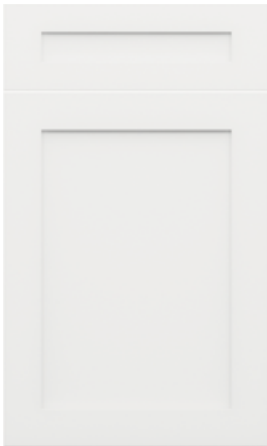

At its most effortless, Vista Full Access can be composed as a warm, minimal interior that pairs light oak cabinetry with crisp white surfaces and simplified door profiles for a kitchen that feels airy, calm, and easy to live with. Soft contrast keeps the room bright and expansive, while the wood grain brings natural rhythm and a quiet sense of casual luxury, suited to light-filled urban homes and open-plan spaces where natural light and the exterior setting shape the overall atmosphere.

VISTA FULL ACCESS

Vista Full Access’s most versatile door language is a classic shaker executed in a clean, full-access frameless build, then tuned through proportion to suit the architecture. Rather than a single fixed profile, the shaker is a calibrated system with five rail widths, allowing the same geometry to read crisp and architectural at slimmer proportions, comfortably transitional at mid widths, or more traditional as rails broaden, without changing the underlying language.

VISTA FULL ACCESS

Our signature Simply White finish is a crisp, neutral anchor that suits a wide range of homes. It pairs effortlessly with oak tones and darker islands while supporting streamlined layouts and daily durability. Designers can steer the look from contemporary to traditional through proportion, hardware, lighting, and material choices, without sacrificing clarity, balance, or overall cohesion.

VISTA FULL ACCESS

Vista Full Access is our custom frameless cabinetry system, built to order for each space, defined by full-access interiors, precise construction, and clean, controlled reveals that read lighter and more architectural than a framed system. Within Vista Full Access, our design expressions, including White Shaker and Warm Contemporary, show how the same structural platform can be specified to different aesthetic outcomes through door profile, proportion, and finish, while maintaining a consistent standard of custom craftsmanship across the entire collection.

WEATHERED & WHITE WASH WALNUT

Our weathered and white-washed walnut finishes reflect the artistry of hand-crafted, North American hardwoods. Every finish is applied by hand and every surface sanded by hand, creating rich textures, subtle tonal variations, and sophisticated, organic colors. As a standard feature, our slab doors are grain-matched, allowing the walnut’s natural grain to flow seamlessly vertically across each piece, creating a striking, continuous aesthetic. This meticulous process highlights the artisan craftsmanship and celebrates the inherent beauty of walnut, resulting in a luxurious space that feels genuine, modern, and serene.

WIRE BRUSHED RIFT WHITE OAK

Our wire-brushed rift white oak finishes are crafted from North American white oak and rift-cut for a consistent, elegant vertical grain. Each veneer is wire-brushed by hand, enhancing texture and highlighting the depth and beauty of the grain. As a standard feature, our slab doors are grain-matched — a meticulous process rarely offered elsewhere, creating a seamless, luxury aesthetic. Every piece is then hand-sanded and stained to showcase rich tones and subtle variations. Rift-cut white oak delivers a refined, timeless look, elevated by artisan craftsmanship.

INFINITE EXPRESSION

Bespoke Color Customization

At St. Martin Cabinetry, we have poured our hearts into creating elevated finishes across every cabinetry collection. Still, we understand that your design vision may extend beyond our current palette.

We are thrilled to unveil our new bespoke color customization program, available across all full custom cabinetry collections. Select any shade from our color library, and we will craft your cabinetry to match, whether you are drawn to a bold rush of color or a softly muted hue.

Custom color finishes can be applied to your choice of premium hardwoods, including walnut and white oak. Each finish undergoes the same meticulous water-based brush process and multi-stage sanding process that defines our signature soft-matte aesthetic, allowing the wood grain to remain beautifully expressive and tactile.

Unlimited color. Unsurpassed quality.

WARDROBE CLOSET

Turn the most private space in the home into something calm, intentional, and beautifully ordered. Our Wardrobe Collection brings a cohesive, cabinetry-forward approach to wardrobes and closets, shaping a refined backdrop where garments and accessories can be displayed, accessed, and lived with ease.

WARDROBE CLOSET

Our Wardrobe Collection extends the architectural language of St. Martin Cabinetry through configurable frameless modules, curated finishes, and integrated lighting, with optional glass-front doors for a more tailored presentation. Engineered per layout and built to order, it offers planning clarity and an approximate 12-week lead time.

Integrated Lighting: Built-in LED lighting adds soft, purposeful visibility, helping every section read cleanly from morning to night.

Open, Display-Forward Organization: Thoughtful hanging rails, shelving, and drawers keep wardrobes refined and accessible, elevating garments and accessories as part of the room.

Curated Finishes: A restrained palette of tactile neutrals, including textured melamines and super matte surfaces, creates a quiet backdrop that lets what you wear stand out.

Modular Planning Clarity: Frameless, configurable modules are engineered around the layout, simplifying planning while preserving a custom, cohesive look.
